

STEPHEN DODGSON

1924 - 2013

A CENTENARY CONCERT

WESTON GALLERY 15TH MARCH, 7PM

Riversong

Summer is draining away, and you - swift running River.

River carry our songs away.

You who have echoed the lute,
borne gilded barges,

You who have been polluted, but feel no pain...

Talkative river - carry our songs away.

John Heath-Stubbs

An impressionistic painting of a river landscape. The background shows a river with a line of tall, thin trees on the far bank. The foreground is a field of green and yellow flowers, possibly a meadow. The overall style is soft and painterly, with visible brushstrokes and a muted color palette.

Stephen Dodgson

was born in London on 11th March 1924 and lived there with few interruptions all his life. His compositions cover almost every genre, however he is probably best-known world wide for his numerous works for guitar. His interest in the instrument was prompted by Julian Bream.
